

Prayer Corner

" Dear John, I would like to pray for my Aunt who was just diagnosed with Stage 4 lung cancer. She was given only 6 months to live if no action was taken. The news was obviously devastating to all of us in my family and it occupied our thoughts constantly. What can we do to help? Pray of Course!!! The power of prayer is amazing. She agreed to chemo therapy but right after the first treatment she developed fluid on her lungs and ended up in the hospital again. Besides all the pain associated with the fluid they had to discontinue her treatments until they could stop her lungs from filling up with the fluid. After 3 weeks of draining fluid she was finally able to continue her cancer treatments. We continued to pray and to visit her. Yesterday she had an appointment with her Oncologist and the amazing news he gave her was that she is down to Stage 1. I truly believe that the power of prayer, love and of course the treatments played their parts in this diagnosis. The Dr. was amazed. For those families who have members that have cancer, we pray for all of you too. May you find strength in knowing others have you in their minds and in their hearts. Thank you, John, for providing this site so others can share their stories, their prayers and offer strength to others."

Patty 9/18/08